Warehousing & Logistics Services

Supply Chain Practitioner Level 3

This Apprenticeship is for a fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) Supply Chain Practitioner organising and coordinating a network of interconnected businesses in the provision of goods and services to the end customer. Working in one or more supply chain function, Apprentices will develop a comprehensive understanding of the entire supply chain, their impact on each function and how to deliver the best value for their business and customer. Due to the high number of interactions, both within and outside of the business, they will develop strong relationship building, influencing, stakeholder management and communication skills alongside sound analytical, information technology and numeracy skills, with an ability to work in a fast-paced environment with frequently changing requirements.
